

FNCE® 2024

Food & Nutrition Conference & Expo®

Minneapolis, MN | October 5-8

FNCE® & YOUR ORGANIZATION

Your best and brightest employees should join us at FNCE® this year.

Over 58% of FNCE® 2023 attendees received full or partial assistance from their employers. Employers are realizing that attending FNCE® is the best way to promote employee professional development and increase staff appreciation according to recent Academy surveys.

FNCE® received an 8/10 satisfaction score in 2023 and offers a positive return on your investment. In just four days, your employees have access to:

- Over 100 educational sessions spanning a number of practice settings.
- The Expo providing resources to benefit clients, patients and your business.
- Access to research and practical information that can be shared with other colleagues.

All education is outcomes-based with resources need to quickly apply new learnings into practice. This may reduce the need to attend other conferences or join other associations or groups, reducing costs and additional time away from the office.

Your staff will return from FNCE® recharged and inspired.
