
ACCREDITATION FEE SCHEDULE INTERNATIONAL PROGRAMS

EFFECTIVE June 2024

The Accreditation Council for Education in Nutrition and Dietetics (ACEND) is a not-for-profit organization. Fees for international programs' evaluation, consultation, training, accreditation, and other services provided by ACEND to its international program are set at a level intended to defray the actual cost to provide the service(s) and assist in the support and continuous improvement of the services. An annual fee is charged for the maintenance of any international-accreditation status. ACEND may adjust the fees and set effective dates for such adjustments at any regular or special meeting of the ACEND Board. For more information, please send an email to acend@eatright.org.

In 2023, ACEND adopted a tiered fee structure that takes into consideration the economic status of a country. For this purpose, ACEND uses World Bank data (gross national income per capita) and country classifications:

<https://datahelpdesk.worldbank.org/knowledgebase/articles/906519-world-bank-country-and-lending-groups>. The ACEND Board has adopted the same tiers as the World Bank:

- Tier A: High-Income Countries
- Tier B: Upper Middle-Income Countries
- Tier C: Lower Middle-Income Countries
- Tier D: Low-Income Countries.

In determining what fees will apply to an institution or organization applying for a service(s), ACEND will refer to the latest data published by the World Bank. The World Bank typically updates the data annually in June/July. For additional details relating to fees and other information for international program accreditation, please refer to ACEND Policy and Procedure Manual (<https://www.eatrightpro.org/-/media/files/eatrightpro/acend/accreditation-standards-fees-and-policies/acend-policies-and-procedures/acend-policy-and-procedure-manual.pdf>). Terms used in the Fee Schedule are defined in the Policy and Procedure Manual.
