New Dietetics Application Process for ACEND® Supervised Practice Programs (DIs, CPs, GPs)

During its January 2024 meeting, the ACEND® Board voted to discontinue the dietetics application match (through D&D Digital) and approved the proposed application process for dietetics. The new process follows the typical university and most other health professions' admissions process. The following are highlights of these decisions:

1. The computer matching process provided by D&D Digital will be discontinued. Spring 2024 marks the last cycle that will use the computer matching process. The revised Dietetics Application Process will launch for the Fall 2024 cycle.
2. With the discontinuation of the match, the ACEND® Board also voted to discontinue the Individualized Supervised Practice Pathway (ISPP) for unmatched DPD-Verification Statement (VS) applicants only. This decision does not impact the ISPP option for those applicants who hold a doctoral degree. The doctoral degree ISPPs can continue. A separate communication was sent on Monday, February 5 to programs with ISPPs, detailing their options and next steps.
3. With the discontinuation of the match, the pre-select option will also be discontinued after the Spring 2024 match. This decision was based on the many comments and feedback ACEND received during the Dietetics Application Process Task Force (DAP-TF) December 2023 Town Hall.
4. To ensure an equitable process and level the playing field, the ACEND Board voted to require all supervised practice program types (DIs, CPs and GPs), including those not participating in DICAS, to follow and abide by the applicant notification due date and the applicant decision due date starting Fall 2024. Note that programs that accept students within their own institution (e.g., a sophomore applying to a dietetics program that starts junior year) do not have to follow or abide by these due dates.

5. Based on feedback received during the December Town Hall, the application process due dates were shifted earlier by two weeks to allow sufficient time for programs with start dates before August.

6. Key dates that must be followed by all supervised practice programs (all DIs, CPs, and GPs):

FALL Due Dates

- December 1, 2024: Applicant notification due date. Programs must notify applicants on or before this date.
- December 15, 2024: Applicant decision due date. Programs may NOT require an applicant's decision to accept an appointment prior to this date.

SPRING Due Dates

- March 1, 2025: Applicant notification due date. Programs must notify applicants on or before this date.
- March 15, 2025: Applicant decision due date. Programs may NOT require an applicant's decision to accept an appointment prior to this date.

7. The 2024-2025 application cycles (fall and spring) will serve as a pilot to revise and improve the process, where needed. As a pilot, participation in the Dietetics Inclusive Centralized Application Service (DICAS) will remain optional for CPs and GPs; however, for the 2025-2026 cycle and moving forward, 100% enrollment in DICAS will be required. This includes DIs, CPs and GPs.

ACEND will be hosting two town halls to present the new dietetics application process and answer program questions:

Tuesday, February 20, 2024, 11:00 am – 12:30 pm CT

Friday, March 1, 2024, 11:00 am – 12:30 pm CT

To register for one of these town halls, access the ACEND Town Hall webpage HERE. In addition, a session is being planned for Thursday, April 4, 2024 during the Nutrition and Dietetics Educators and Preceptors (NDEP) annual meeting in Seattle, WA. This topic will also be included as one of the roundtable discussions during the NDEP meeting. I encourage you to attend at least one of these town halls/sessions.

The DAP-TF continues its work this year to finalize the code of ethics and traffic rules for the application process, develop guidance for programs especially free-standing Dietetic Internship programs that do not have the support of a university admission department, and make available needed training materials. Ultimately, the goal is to incorporate the process into the ACEND policies and/or standards to ensure enforcement. This communication was sent to all programs on Tuesday, February 6, 2024.

March 8, 2024 DEI Webinar: Empowering Dietetics Students Session 1

ACEND® will be sponsoring a 2-session DEI webinar series this year presented by Ms. Tamara Melton, MS, RDN, LD, Co-founder and Executive Director of Diversify Dietetics. The first session, Empowering Dietetics Students: Navigating Microaggressions & Advocacy in Academic Settings, will be held on Friday, March 8, 2024 from 11:00 AM-12:30 PM CT and is intended for students/interns. During the webinar, Ms. Melton will present several scenarios and case studies of microaggression and will provide tips and strategies on how to address each of the presented cases. The objective is to empower students, interns, faculty, and preceptors to respond appropriately when they experience or when they witness a difficult situation. While this webinar is intended for students/interns, we encourage educators, preceptors, and administrators to attend. The webinar has been approved for 1.5 hours (Level 2) and will be recorded. Note, only attendees who participate in the live session are eligible to receive CPEs for this event. Those who listen to the recording will not receive CPE credit. For additional information and to register for this event, please click HERE.

The second session of this two-part series is scheduled for November 19, 2024 as part of the November Town Hall.

ACEND® Surveys of Supervised Practice/Experiential Learning Programs Students and Graduates (DIs, CPs)

Part of ACEND's evaluation of the Future Education Model Accreditation Standards is benchmarking the Graduate Program (GP) outcomes against other ACEND accredited programs (graduate DIs and CPs) by collecting data from their students and graduates. In March, ACEND will be sending two (2) email communications to program directors of supervised practice/experiential learning programs. Each communication includes an email script and link for a student exit survey or graduate survey. In the brief student exit survey (2-5 minutes), students are asked to report on their readiness for practice. The graduate survey is also brief (3-5 minutes) and asks graduates to report on their preparation and competence for practice in nutrition and dietetics as well as current employment. Thank you for your continued support and leadership in the training of our future nutrition and dietetics practitioners.

Updated Webinar on Evaluating International Students

The ACEND® Board has updated the video training on how to evaluate international students applying to U.S.-based ACEND programs to assist programs that receive inquiries from international students about applying to their program. The following has been updated:

- 2022 Accreditation Standards: The webinar is aligned with the 2022 Accreditation Standards.

- International Students Checklist: The webinar provides an overview of the International Students Checklist available for international students and the role program directors play in each step.

Please contact ACEND® if there are additional resources that would be helpful for guiding international students.

Call for ACEND Program Reviewer Applications

ACEND is recruiting nutrition and dietetics educators and practitioners to become ACEND Program Reviewers! ACEND Program Reviewers examine nutrition and dietetics educational programs and conduct site visits to universities and other organizations with ACEND-accredited programs. This peer-review accreditation process strengthens nutrition and dietetics education and the profession as a whole.

ACEND Program Reviewers serve for three-year terms, beginning June 2024. This year, we are especially in need of reviewers with experience managing Coordinated Programs and practitioners actively engaged in nutrition and dietetics practice. Criteria include the following:

- Membership in the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics and registration (RDN or NDTR) by the Commission on Dietetic Registration preferred
- Master's or higher degree preferred
- Willing to provide professional leadership
- Employed in education or practice for more than three years
- Have a commitment to quality nutrition and dietetics education programs
- Represent a major area or area of nutrition and dietetics practice
- Meet the time commitment required by the position (prepare for and conduct two site visits per year and review two to four program reports per year, estimated to be 20 days annually)
- Be able to complete program reviewer training following their appointment (visit link below to review training requirements)
- Program Reviewers may not serve simultaneously on other groups within the Academy that may represent a conflict of interest with ACEND® activities or violate U.S. Department of Education regulations (i.e., member of the academy Board of Directors, Academy BOD Executive Committee, HOD Leadership Team, member of the Commission on Dietetic Registration)

In addition to learning about current nutrition and dietetics education and “giving back” to the profession, there are several benefits. You will further develop leadership and communication skills, travel to universities and practice sites across the country (expenses covered by ACEND) and enjoy the camaraderie of peers in the profession. Many ACEND Program Reviewers comment that the experience has helped them to improve their own practice or educational programs. ACEND Program Reviewers are also eligible to receive CEUs for their service. Finally, ACEND Program Reviewers can add to their leadership experience by running for positions on the ACEND Board of Directors after at least three years of experience as a Program Reviewer.

Visit <https://www.eatrightpro.org/acend/acend-training-and-volunteer-opportunities/program-reviewers/link-to-program-reviewer-applications> to apply. If you know someone who would make a great reviewer, please pass along this opportunity. Applications are currently being accepted until February 29, 2024. The next application period will take place October 1-31, 2024.

Please contact acendnominations@eatright.org with any questions.

News and Updates

Fall Due dates for Dietetics Application Process Moved to November

As announced within the February ACEND Update and two ACEND Town Halls over the past few weeks, ACEND released the revised application process for dietetics. Within this process, the ACEND Board voted that fall and spring key dates must be followed by all supervised practice programs (all DIs, CPs, and GPs). Based on feedback received after the ACEND Town Halls and because the 2024-2025 application cycle will serve as a pilot to revise and improve the process, the DAP Task Force has decided to adjust the Fall Due Dates earlier in the cycle. This decision was made to ensure programs with an early spring start date are able to orient and onboard students as needed before the start of the program. Below are the revised Fall Due Dates:

REVISED FALL Due Dates

- November 1, 2024: Applicant notification due date. Programs must notify applicants on or before this date.
- November 15, 2024: Applicant decision due date. Programs may NOT require an applicant's decision to accept an appointment prior to this date.

Note that the spring due dates remain the same as March 1, 2025- application notification due date and March 15, 2025-application decision due date.

To view the entire message about the new application process and the recent decisions made by the ACEND board, refer to the February ACEND Update posted here: <https://www.eatrightpro.org/acend/public-notices-and-announcements/acend-update>.

2025 Annual Fee for Program Budgets

As many ACEND-accredited programs start planning future budgets, this is a reminder that the 2025 Annual Accreditation Fee can be found on the Accreditation Fee Schedule, in the Policies and Procedures section of the ACEND website. Annual fee invoices are typically prepared in September and due mid-December of the previous year; therefore, the 2025 Annual Accreditation Fee will be due in December 2024.

Program directors will receive an email from ACEND when annual fee invoices are ready in September 2024. There are two ways to access a program's open invoice:

- Log in into the ACEND Portal and click the "Pay Open Invoices" QuickPay link, under "Actions"
- Save the QuickPay Link separately and access it at any time without having to log into the ACEND portal. ACEND recommends sending this link to the person who pays program bills for future reference as the QuickPay Link will not change.

April 16, 2024 Town Hall

During the virtual town hall on Tuesday, April 16, 2024 from 11:00 am – 12:00 pm CT ACEND will be highlighting the Didactic Programs in Dietetics (DPD) and their value in the dietetics education pathway. Dr. James Swain, PhD, RDN, LD, FAND, Associate Professor and Director of Case Western Reserve University DPD and Erin Norman, PhD, RDN, LMNT, Associate Professor and Director of Chadron State College DPD program will review current data supporting the importance of DPD programs for the RDN pathway and for the dietetics profession overall. The webinar will also provide guidance for DPD directors to increase support from their administration and to enhance student recruitment.

ACEND Programs Enrollments and Trends

ACEND makes available program enrollment data aggregated for all its accredited programs on an annual basis. This information is self-reported by all ACEND-accredited programs via the annual report. The results of program enrollments for FY 2023 have been posted on the ACEND website under About ACEND - ACEND Data here. Updated tables include the Program Enrollment Trends from 2000-2023 and Diversity Enrollment Trends from 2000-2023.

Key Points

- There were 8.5% fewer enrolled students and interns reported in 2023 compared to 2022. Enrollment in all ACEND-accredited programs was 14,754 in 2023 compared to 16,128 in 2022.
- Dietetic Technician program (DT), Didactic Program in Dietetics (DPD), Coordinated Program (CP), and Dietetic Internship (DI) enrollments declined in 2023 compared to 2022 (10.1%, 7.6%, 8.2%, 23.7%, respectively).
- Compared to 2022, enrollment in Future Education Model Graduate Programs (GP) in 2023 was 34.9% higher. This is a 431 increase in students compared to a decline of 1,088 students enrolled in DIs and CPs combined.
- As a result of the 8.5% decline in total enrollment, enrollment in races and ethnic groups declined for the following: White (not Hispanic), Black or African American, Asian, and Hispanic/Latino of any race (12.8%, 12.7%, 12.6%, 10%) and increased for the following: Native Hawaiian and Other Pacific Islander, American Indian and Alaska Native, Two or More Races, and Not Able to Report Ethnic Origin (17.6%, 86.7%, 18.1%, 35.1%, respectively).

D&D Digital Matching Data Available until June 15th

With the Spring 2024 being the final match through the D&D Digital Matching service, ACEND wanted to remind program directors that the ACEND and D&D Digital contract ends on June 15, 2024. This means that after June 15, 2024, data normally obtained from D&D Digital will no longer be available including matching data and match/no match lists.

ACEND encourages program directors to pull any data needed from D&D Digital platform prior to June 15, 2024 as it will be unavailable after that date. If you need any data related to computer matching after that date, you can reach out directly to D&D Digital at info@dndigital.com; however, there will be a cost to programs associated with obtaining that data.

ACEND Introduces New Doctoral Standards for the RDN Practitioner

Dietetics is facing a shortage of RDNs with terminal degrees. With only 2.4% of RDNs holding a terminal degree, there is an urgent need for doctoral-prepared RDNs to fill needed positions in academia and meet the increased demand in industry, government, and other sectors (Davis et al., J Am Diet Assoc 2023). This concern, combined with the request from current Doctorate in Clinical Nutrition (DCN) programs to the Accreditation Council for Education in Nutrition and Dietetics (ACEND) to ensure quality of doctoral programs, led to the ACEND Board's decision to develop the Advanced Practice Doctorate (APD) Standards for the RDN.

The APD is distinct from the entry-level master's degree as well as the research PhD. It incorporates advanced didactic coursework, an advanced practice residency, and applied research to achieve core competencies. Students entering an APD program must already have the RDN credential and must have earned a bachelor's degree with a minimum of four years of full-time post-credentialing work experience or a master's degree with a minimum of two years of full-time post-credentialing work experience. The new ACEND APD Accreditation Standards will be released June 1, 2024 for voluntary adoption by academic institutions.

Spring 2024 Dietetic Internship Match Data

Each spring, graduates of didactic programs in nutrition and dietetics (DPD) participate in a computerized match process run by D&D Digital for placement in dietetic internship (DI) programs. The results of the first round of the April 2024 computer match are available on the ACEND website.

Key Points

- These results do not include applicants who matched in the second round or those who were accepted to Future Graduate (GP) programs, Coordinated Programs (CP) or Individualized Supervised Practice Pathways (ISPPS).
- There were 17% fewer participants in the Spring 2024 computer match compared to Spring 2023.
- As a result of a decline in DPD enrollment and several other factors including increased numbers of DPD graduates applying to Coordinated Programs (CP) and Future Education Model Standards Graduate Programs (GP), the spring match rate has steadily improved. 86% of applicants were matched to a dietetic internship in Spring 2024.

Note: With the Spring 2024 being the final match through the D&D Digital Matching service, ACEND wanted to remind program directors that the ACEND and D&D Digital contract ends on June 15, 2024. Upcoming Workshop covering the 2022 and Future Education Model (FEM) Accreditation Standards

The Accreditation Council for Education in Nutrition and Dietetics (ACEND®) will be offering a virtual Accreditation Workshop on September 26 and 27, 2024. The workshop is designed to help dietetic education program directors and others learn the latest 2022 and FEM accreditation standards and specific details on how to prepare for self-study reports and site visits. Individuals with a site visit scheduled in 2025-2026, individuals interested in applying to start a new ACEND-accredited program, and newly appointed program directors, are welcome and encouraged to attend.

Please visit the ACEND website under Program Director Workshops for more information and to register for the upcoming virtual workshop in September.

Share Your Noteworthy Practices with Other Educators

Congratulations to the University of Saint Joseph Dietetic Internship! The program was selected as one of the noteworthy dietetics practices among the ACEND-accredited programs.

If you would like your noteworthy practice to be reviewed by ACEND's Review Committee and possibly be selected for the next quarter, please visit the ACEND's Noteworthy Practice Page here to download the submission form.

Noteworthy practices in the following topic areas are requested: Activities, practices, and/or processes that promote DEI, Preceptor Recruitment and Recognition, Interprofessional Education, Curriculum (i.e. simulation, review process, integrated experience) and Program Improvement (i.e. data collection, technology, pass rate).

Please submit the completed submission form and supporting documentation to ACEND@eatright.org by one of the upcoming due dates: July 19, 2024 and October 18, 2024.

ACEND Competency Software Launching Tuesday, May 28, 2024

ACEND is excited to announce that the Competency software (formerly known as Competency.AI) will be accessible to all ACEND-accredited programs beginning Tuesday, May 28, 2024.

ACEND implemented this software based on requests from program directors for assistance with streamlining competency tracking. The system is available to all accredited programs free of charge, and it is optional to use.

We understand there may be an initial learning curve with the features and adapting the software to fit your specific program type, as is the case with most competency tracking software. Programs are encouraged to take their time to fully implement the system. To assist programs, ACEND developed several trainings for program directors, preceptors, and students that are posted on the Competency Software Resources webpage. Additionally, we are hosting a series of kick-off meetings to introduce the software and answer any of your questions:

- Thursday, May 30th 12 – 1 PM CT | Register here
- Monday, June 3rd 11 – 12 PM CT | Register here
- Friday, June 7th 11 – 12 PM CT | Register here

Required Element 7.3.d Recommended Website Update for DT, DI, CP, GP Programs

The ACEND Accreditation Standards require programs to publish “Information about the requirements and process to become a registered dietitian nutritionist (RDN), including education, supervised practice, passage on the CDR credentialing exam, and state certification/licensure, states for which the program meets State requirements for licensure/certification; and how the program fits into the process” (RE 7.3.d). It is recommended that programs add the statement,

- “While state interpretations of statutes may vary, it is ACEND's considered opinion that the program meets the educational requirements for dietetics licensure and certification in all states. However, completing an ACEND-accredited academic program alone does not qualify an individual for licensure or certification as a dietitian in any state. Individuals should review their state's licensing statutes and regulations to understand the specific requirements, including supervised practice and examinations, needed to obtain a dietetics license. More information about state licensure and certification can be found at this link: State Licensure.”

Note at this time, this statement only applies to prospective students for Dietetic Technician Programs, Dietetic Internship Programs, Coordinated Programs and Graduate Programs. ACEND is currently working on a statement for prospective students in Didactic Programs in Dietetics.

Dietetics Application Process Guidelines and Resources Now Available

Guidelines and resources addressing the new dietetics application process for supervised practice programs (DIs, CPs, GPs) are now available on the ACEND website for program directors here and for applicants here. Materials include information for program directors, timelines and due dates, traffic rules, and a handout and Q&A for applicants that DPD programs and others can share with their students. The webpage will continue to be updated as additional materials are developed. If you have any questions about the dietetics application process contact education@eatright.org.

DPD Verification Statement Upload to REPs for CPs and GPs

If a graduate has completed a Didactic Program in Dietetics (DPD) prior to entering into a Graduate Program (GP) or Coordinated Program (CP), the GP or CP program director must upload the student's DPD Verification Statement and include the DPD Program Code into the CDR REPs system. Completing this important step will allow the DPD to receive pass rate reports for the students who have successfully completed a GP or CP. Below is a screenshot of where this information is entered in the CDR REPs system. If you have any questions, please contact CDR@eatright.org.

Competency Software Dashboard Data Survey

Currently, the Competency software collects data by taking the average score of all completed formative and summative assessments for a learner and displays the data as a mean percentage on the dashboard. ACEND is looking for feedback on how data is displayed on the Competency dashboard and the type of data you'd like to obtain from the system. This survey provides ideas for improvement; however, we would love to hear how the data would be most useful to your specific program type.

Access the survey here.

Please email Education@eatright.org to further explain the ideas you may have that are not compatible with this survey format. Please complete the survey by September 6, 2024.

Updates to Competency Software

Competency is continuously evolving to better serve your needs with monthly updates. To stay informed about the latest training sessions, features and improvements, please check the Competency Software Resources webpage regularly. For specific questions about the software, please email Education@eatright.org.

Recent updates include enhancements for DPD programs when adding rubrics, updates to dashboard data, and the added ability to assign yourself as a preceptor to a rotation.

Dietetics Application Process Additional Resources and Survey Released

The Dietetics Application Process Task Force has released additional resources and two surveys to collect feedback from both program directors and applicants. On the program director application webpage, an additional guidance document was added titled "Admission Communication Samples" which provide programs optional admissions email examples (e.g., request for interview, acceptance, denial, etc.) to support communication with applicants. In addition, two feedback surveys were added to the ACEND website for the task force to collect input and feedback on the dietetics application process. You may access the program director and faculty survey here and the applicant survey here. Program directors, especially DPD program directors, please share the applicant survey with your students who are applying to supervised practice programs in 2024-2025.

DICAS Vouchers Will Be Implemented 2025-2026 Cycle

DICAS vouchers are coupons that institutions are able to purchase and provide to their applicants to cover some or all of the DICAS fees to apply to their program. In late July, the DICAS Committee sent a survey to our supervised practice programs inquiring about their interest in using DICAS vouchers/coupons. Thank you to those who took the time to complete the survey. Many respondents requested a delay in implementing these vouchers to allow them time to allocate funds in the program's budget. After reviewing the survey results, it was decided that the DICAS vouchers would not be released for the 2024-2025 cycle. The decision not to offer the vouchers at this time was to allow full communication and training for our programs on the use of these vouchers as well as maintain equity and fairness for programs who need time to implement the vouchers. Further communication and resources will be made available in 2025.

ACEND International Student Guide is Available Now!

During the summer ACEND collected program director feedback regarding acceptance of international students. The intent of this survey was to develop a comprehensive resource to support program enrollment and further guide international students applying to ACEND-accredited nutrition and dietetics programs in the U.S. and its territories. The International Student Guide: ACEND – Accredited Nutrition and Dietetics Programs Accepting International Students is a result of this collaborative effort and is now available on the ACEND website for student and public use under the Students and Advancing Education section. The guide provides a list of ACEND programs that accept international students and has been formatted by program type and organized by state for ease of reference. We hope that this will be another useful resource for international students as they navigate the application process into nutrition and dietetics programs and pursue the RDN and NDTR credentials in the U.S.

Crosswalk of ACEND Standards and CDR Registration Examination for Dietitians Study Outline

The Accreditation Council for Education and Dietetics (ACEND®) has created a crosswalk that aligns ACEND's Curriculum and Learning Activities for the 2022 Standards for DPD, CP, and DI programs and the FEM GP Standards to CDR's Registration Examination for Dietitians Study Outline - 2022-2026. The purpose of this crosswalk was to support faculty and students by ensuring ACEND-accredited programs are meeting the content provided in the CDR Study Outline to adequately prepare students for the CDR Registration Examination for Dietitians. The overall findings of this exercise confirmed the alignment between the ACEND curriculum and the CDR Study Outline and that the ACEND Standards and competencies go above and beyond the topics/subtopics identified in the CDR Study Outline. ACEND Policy and Procedure Manual and Substantive Change Guidelines Revised November 2024

The ACEND Policy and Procedure Manual has been updated and posted to the ACEND website. The changes to ACEND policies, which take effect immediately, include:

- Updates to the Eligibility Application for Precandidate status requirement for free-standing DI programs to provide documentation of state authorization or exemption (Policy 2.1.A.2).
- Change requiring programs that make significant program changes or a combination of changes that may change the nature of the program to undergo a new comprehensive site visit instead of the more limited focused site visit (Policy 4.3.A.5).
- Removed the Program Closure Policy from the Substantive Change Policy section. Program Closure Policy is now its own policy section (Policy 4.4).
- Minor clarifications to ACEND's Communication and Publication of ACEND Board Decisions (Policy 2.5.A and 2.5.B).
- Updates to the list of reasons that may lead ACEND to stop scheduling a volunteer program reviewer for program reviews (Policy 1.5.E.1.e - Program Reviewer Termination).

The ACEND Substantive Change Guidelines has been updated and posted to the ACEND website. The substantive change guidelines, which apply to all ACENDaccredited programs, have been updated to provide clearer instructions on the required narrative and supporting evidence for submission. These revisions include an easy-to-read table format to outline the necessary documentation more effectively. Changes to the Guidelines, which take effect immediately, include:

- Separating the addition of Distance Education and Branch Campus/Additional Locations into individual changes
- Separating the addition/change of a degree and removing a degree option into individual changes
- Addition of a substantive change to notify ACEND if there are changes to the sponsoring institution's accreditor
- Addition of a notification to ACEND for any free-standing program wishing to apply for eligibility, using ACEND as their accreditor of record, for Title IV student financial aid

Additionally, ACEND has created new templates to help programs submit evidence for specific types of substantive changes. ACEND encourages program directors to review the latest version of the substantive change guidelines to ensure their programs submit comprehensive and appropriate evidence that demonstrates compliance with any proposed changes.

ACEND Collecting Strategies to Increase Student Enrollment

ACEND® recognizes that declining student enrollment is a significant concern among our programs. While ACEND cannot directly intervene to impact enrollment, we can highlight the innovative work our programs are doing to successfully increase student numbers. As such, ACEND is seeking to highlight your stories and any strategies you have used that have been effective at increasing your program's enrollment. If you have a story to share, no matter how small, we urge you to complete this three-minute survey:

<https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/EnrollmentStrategies> by December 15, 2024.

The responses will be compiled and published on the ACEND website as a resource to programs. In addition, ACEND will select several programs to share their strategies at a future Town Hall in 2025. We are grateful for all the work you are doing to navigate ongoing enrollment challenges and look forward to offering a venue for programs to share their experiences and methods for successfully increasing student enrollment.

Thank you for completing the survey!

New Resources Related to USDE Requirements for Disclosing Licensure Information to Students in All Programs

The USDE is requiring programs to disclose state licensure information to students. To assist our programs to meet this requirement, ACEND worked with the Academy licensure advocacy team to provide this information.

All programs will find this resource on the Program Director page on the ACEND website. On this page, programs will find a Licensure Statutes and Board Information section with suggested language for each program type, associated links, and a new document for DPD programs that outlines which states currently require a graduate degree for license or certification. Due to the changing landscape with dietetics licensure around the newly mandated graduate degree for entry-level practice, the information for DPD programs is current as of July 2024. The program must examine the requirements to ensure that they are meeting the USDE disclosure requirement and to stay attuned to dietetics licensure requirements. Programs will be notified if or when the Academy's licensure advocacy team updates this information via the ACEND Update.

Feedback Needed! Dietetics Application Process

The Dietetics Application Process Task Force needs your feedback and that of your students! Two feedback surveys were added to the ACEND website for the task force to collect input and feedback on the dietetics application process. You may access the program director and faculty survey here and the applicant survey here. Program directors, please complete the survey, and we ask DPD program directors to share the applicant survey with students applying to supervised practice programs in 2024-2025.

Updated ACEND Manager State Assignments

In addition to supporting ACEND accreditation site visits, ACEND accreditation managers have states assigned to them; programs in those states can call their assigned manager at any time of the accreditation cycle to ask questions and get accreditation support.

Some of the ACEND accreditation manager assignments have recently been updated. To find the ACEND accreditation manager assigned to your state, please visit the ACEND Staff page of the ACEND website.
